

国語のきょうかしょやかん字ドリルを見て、二つのかん字を合体させて、新しいかん字つくろう。

The image shows three identical stations for creating new kanji. Each station consists of two empty boxes at the top for inputting kanji characters. Below these boxes is a grey machine with two slots on top, two circular buttons, and a rectangular slot at the bottom. Two arrows point from the machine's bottom slot to a large empty box at the bottom of each station, where the student is to write the newly created kanji.
